I am looking for someone that is easy going, fun loving can adapt and enjoy pretty much anything at any style from totally casual to formal. I promise you we will laugh and enjoy our time together no matter what we are doing. I hope you like sarcastic wit. One of my favorite sayings "If ignorance is bliss then why isn't there more happy people in the world?" I want easy going fun that grows into a passionate life-long love affair with my best friend. I believe that real love grows out of relationship that two people work on together. I like good conversation, good wine and good laughs, with good friends. I like, a warm summers evening, a long walk, cooking together, on the deck, good wine, engaging conversation into the wee hours, snuggling, kissing, playing... you know what I mean.
