語学: Unfortunately I am limited to English; sumimasen.

趣味、興味: I love to cook, which is a good hobby for rainy Vancouver. I also enjoy outdoor pursuits like hiking, cross-country skiing, and fishing. I too like art, theatre, and Japanese culture. For example, Akutagawa is one of favorite authors and I adore Yayoi Kasuma's art.

いつか子どもが欲しいですか? はい いいえ こだわらない

既に子どもがいますか? はい いいえ

タバコを吸いますか? はい いいえ

自分自身の性格を、どう思いますか? I am initially reserved, but you'll find me warm, caring, and a little quirky. Although I am quite domestic and like a particular routine, I am also adventurous and eager to explore new ideas and places.

貴方にとって最も大切な事とは何ですか? In a relationship: compatibility, trust, and growing together are most important.

今までに訪れた国: I have travelled to several US states, countries in Europe, and lived in Japan for almost a year (2012).

将来、貴方のパートナーとなる人に交際が進展する前に是非知っておいて貰いたい事がありますか? はい いいえ — I am settled in Vancouver for professional reasons. So unfortunately I am not very flexible on living arrangements. As much as I love Japan, the language and professional barriers are high, making it difficult for me to move there, at least in the foreseeable future. Vancouver is a good city for Japanese ex-pats. For example, there are many Japanese festivals here and it's only a 15 minute walk from my house to a Japanese grocery store.

貴方の将来の希望や計画はどんなものですか? Professionally, I have been reasonably successful, so hope to continue on this path. Personally, although the bachelor life has its advantages, I want to settle down and have a committed, fulfilling relationship.

貴方の将来のパートナーへのメッセージ。 Long distance relationships are a challenge, but would pursue this if we have potential and chemistry. To end on a light note, I can make great okonomiyaki!
